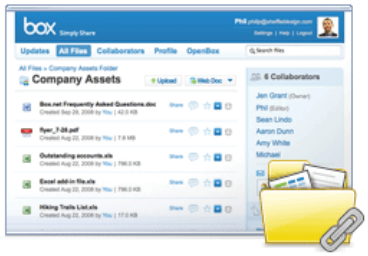
Overview



Sharing and managing content

Organize and view all of your content online in a familiar file and folder structure. Share content with direct links to files and folders, turn any folder into a public webpage in one click and create widgets to share files on a company web page or blog.

Box provides 256-bit SSL encryption and role-based permissioning.

Project collaboration and workflow

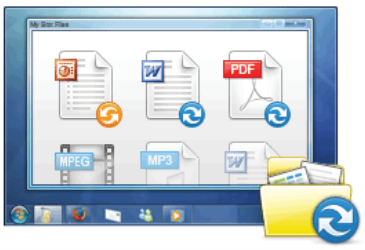
Turn any folder of content into a shared online workspace and invite others to view, edit, or add their own files. Exchange feedback using the commenting and discussion features. Create wiki-style web documents to share meeting notes, ideas, and manage projects. Keep workflow organized by assigning tasks to approve, review or update files.

Track file versions, customize your collaboration experience, and more.

Content search and discovery

Always find the content you’re looking for. Discover new and updated content with a real-time activity feed on file uploads, downloads and comments, as well as individual activity feeds on Box user profiles.

Find the right file with Box’s full-text search engine that lets you search within documents, presentations, spreadsheets, PDFs, and more.



Sync desktop files to Box

Want to access your Box files right on your desktop? That’s what Box Sync is all about. You can also sync your desktop files directly to Box. More good news: Box Sync lets your whole team do the same, so edits and updates appear on everyone’s desktop - automatically.
